Cancer Institute 'Ion Chiricuta'
Cluj-Napoca, Romania

Dr. Alexandru Eniu is a senior medical oncologist at the department of breast tumours at the Cancer Institute 'Ion Chiricuta' in Cluj-Napoca, Romania, where he is also the head of the day hospital unit.

He was confirmed as medical oncologist in 1999, and in addition he passed the ESMO Examination in 2000, followed by recertification in 2006 and 2012. In 2007, he obtained a Ph.D. in Medical Sciences from the University of Medicine "Iuliu Hatieganu" in Cluj-Napoca.

Dr. Eniu has extensive experience from visits abroad, as he was awarded several scholarships that allowed him to learn and practice medical oncology in other countries: a residency at the Henri Becquerel Cancer Centre in Rouen, France in 1997 and an in-depth specialisation in oncology at the Medical University in Rouen in 2000. He was also awarded a Mayo Foundation Visiting Clinician Scholarship at the Mayo Breast Cancer Clinic in Jacksonville, Florida. On several occasions, he has been a visiting clinician in the USA, at the University of Texas, the Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center in New York. He did a fellowship at the European Institute of Oncology in Milan, and during his training, he also spent some time as visiting researcher in the Netherlands and Spain.

As an active member of both national (SRRO) and international (ESMO and ASCO) societies, Dr. Eniu holds positions in various committees, e.g. Chair of the ESMO Developing Countries Task Force, ESMO National Representative for Romania, 2012-2014 and he served as member of the ESMO Ethics Committee until 2012. He is also a member of the ASCO International Affairs Committee, the ASCO Task Force for the International Clinical Trials Workshop, and he served as a member of the ASCO Cancer Education Sub-Committee for Breast Cancer.

Furthermore, Dr. Eniu is a member of the editorial board of several oncology journals (Annals of Oncology, The Lancet Oncology, Romanian version, MEMO - Magazine of European Medical Oncology, Journal of the Romanian Society for Radiotherapy & Oncology, Journal of the Balkan Union of Oncology) and the Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Radiotherapy & Medical Oncology.

Dr. Eniu's background of training and working in various environments enabled him to better capture the differences that exist when practicing oncology in countries with high versus moderate/low level of resources.

He also participated in the process of developing national guidelines for the management of cancer patients. His continuous search for better ways of delivering care to breast cancer patients led him to be part of the Breast Health Global Initiative since 2002, serving as the Co-Chair of the Treatment and Allocation of resources Panel.

In addition to clinical practice devoted to the care of breast cancer patients, Dr. Eniu has been involved in numerous international phase III and II clinical studies (over 50 in total) and has written 2 book chapters and 20 articles in international peer reviewed journals. In addition he has delivered talks on numerous occasions in Europe and the USA, both as invited speaker and with original papers within his specialty of breast cancer.
